

Partnership No-Cosigner Loan for Graduates or PLUS Loan?

The federal government offers PLUS Loans to help with college costs not covered by other financial aid. However, the PLUS loan comes with an upfront fee of more than 4% while the Partnership No-Cosigner Loan for Graduates has no fees and rates that are lower than or competitive with the PLUS rate. This side-by-side comparison of the Partnership No-Cosigner Loan for Graduates to the PLUS Loan may help you determine which is better for your financial situation.

Have High-Rate Loans Already?

If you have private loans with high interest rates, you may be able to refinance today for a lower rate. We offer regular refinancing, where repayment begins immediately, as well as an in-school refinance that lets you delay repayment until after college.

Before applying for an education loan from any lender, including the Direct PLUS loan, you should consider additional characteristics, including: credit requirements, monthly payment amount, origination fees, capitalization frequency, borrower benefits and protections, repayment term, when repayment begins, and the total amount to be repaid over the life of the loan. In addition, for the Direct PLUS loan consider if you may qualify for Public Service Loan Forgiveness or an Income-Driven Repayment Plan.
